INTRODUCTION

Many people are curious about economics. Is it science or arts in nature? Economics is not just GDP, Demand, Supply, and endless curves and graphs. Having a career in Economics is as divergent as it comes. Job roles in Economics cover up everything from agriculture to food, from business to banking, and from the scraping of raw materials to the production of finished goods. Is it difficult to study? In this talk, you will find out whether economics is your cup of tea.

WHAT YOU WILL ACHIEVE

- ➔ To provide basic understanding about Economics
- ➔ To identify the indicators of people who will like Economics
- ➔ To provide a roadmap for potential areas of specialisation or research interests in Economics
