

INTRODUCTION

This enriching workshop focuses on the crucial role of social workers in engaging with the Orang Asli community, a marginalised indigenous group. Throughout the workshop, we will delve into the intricacies of social work within this context and explore ways to foster inclusivity.

WHAT YOU WILL ACHIEVE

- The understanding of social work in Orang Asli communities and the best practices in social work strategies tailored to the unique cultural and social aspects of the Orang Asli community
- Gain insights into the role of the Government and other parties in supporting the Orang Asli community
- To encourage participants to actively engage in the crafting activities, fostering a direct connection with the Orang Asli community members
